

University Strategy

2013-2015

Professor Andrew Vann
Vice-Chancellor and President

For the Public Good

We are a university of the land and people of our regions. True to the character of regional Australia we have gumption, we have soul and we collaborate with others. We develop holistic, far-sighted people who help their communities grow and flourish.

Acknowledging the culture and insight of Indigenous Australians, CSU's ethos is clearly described by the Wiradjuri phrase: 'yindyamarra winhanga-nha' ('the wisdom of respectfully knowing how to live well in a world worth living in')

Harnessing technology, we thrive as a distributed yet connected community, engaging with people across Australia and the world.

Objectives for

Our regional communities:

- to have access to a University whose courses, graduates and research help them to thrive and prosper economically, socially and environmentally
- to improve educational outcomes and lives for Indigenous, regional, rural and remote Australians.

Our professional and academic communities:

- to engage with a university that engages with local, national and global scholarly and research communities and is dedicated to professional practice and that helps to shape the future of the professions.

Our students:

- flexible access to professional education regardless of background or location
- a qualification and high level of employability for a new career, advancement or change
- the knowledge, skills, attitudes, habits and professional networks to prepare them for a successful life and career
- the ability to operate across cultures, spaces and places and with a variety of professions
- critical thinking and ability to influence the world for the better
- an engaging, responsive experience that creates a life long sense of connection and belonging to our community.

Ourselves:

- to extend our 'One University' philosophy into a truly connected community
- to be recognised as the national leader, and a significant international player, in practice-based and distance education
- to be Australian leaders in areas of research strength relevant to our communities and to contribute internationally in an increasing number of areas
- to learn from and improve our practice
- to value staff for their contributions to the university and ensure they have opportunities to grow, develop and innovate.

our evidence of success towards these objectives will be

- number of ATSI students
- proportion of Remote and Very Remote and low SES students
- Graduates from rural and regional areas commencing employ in same
- Regional research outcomes
- Contribution to regional employment and Gross Regional Product
- Scholarly and professional engagement.

communities

- later year student Overall Educational Experience, Educational Development and Sense of Belonging measures.
- graduate Overall Satisfaction and proportion in full-time employment.
- Alumni engagement

students

- national market share in distance education
- student load indicators
- students undertaking work integrated learning
- research income and rank, publications and rank, HDR student load and rank
- staff climate survey results.

Our values

Collaborative – we believe we are at our best when we work together with others to achieve mutual goals.

Student centred – we recognise that delivering an excellent student experience is central to our success. We listen to our students to understand their individual needs. We work to make a real difference in our students' lives.

Agile – we recognise that our environment and the needs of our students, professions, communities and staff are constantly changing and we continually refine and adapt to these differing and changing needs.

Agents of change – we think differently and look beyond the obvious. We ask 'why' and 'why not'. We constantly strive for new and better ways to achieve our goals. We make things happen.

Reliable – we are consistent, trustworthy and dependable. We set realistic aspirational goals and we strive to achieve them.

Inclusive – we recognise that we achieve better outcomes when we embrace and respect the different views, cultural backgrounds and abilities of all staff, students, graduates and external communities.

Our logo

Our logo is inspired by components of the Charles Sturt University Coat of Arms encapsulating references to Sturt's Desert Pea, a book and a shield.

By blending these elements together, the logo communicates:

- an emphasis on an outcome – growth, flourishing and prosperity
- strength and support from togetherness
- fluidity and flexibility

'You + CSU' communicates the essence of what makes us unique and different. It represents our corporate and brand values, and illustrates the relationship between the individual and the university, by contextualising CSU as the enabler.

This document and the planning framework

This document is the key strategic planning document for CSU. It builds upon the best parts of our work over the last few years and is intended for internal use to guide and assist CSU staff in their work and efforts towards the future.

Page 2 provides a relatively enduring narration of CSU – who we are, who we are here for, our objectives and how we will measure our success. The Vice-Chancellor is responsible for these outcomes and reports the University's progress against these objectives and measures to the University Council.

Page 3 frankly and honestly articulates the priorities we need to action across the University over the coming 2-3 year period to achieve the objectives. This is not an inclusive list of all the things to be done in this period – it names the ones that will make the biggest impact.

A Senior Executive Committee member is responsible for each of these priorities, and each will have a more detailed sub-plan in a similar format to this overarching document. Implementation of our priorities will be monitored through the respective oversight committees, while overarching performance will be monitored by the Planning and Strategy Committee.

An electronic version of the document is available at www.csu.edu.au/division/vcoffice/strategy-structure.htm along with a link to more detailed information on our performance measures and targets that will be further developed through 2013.
